

After creation of your app, you'll need to configure your app with the following information to get it up and running: you'll need to provide your app's name and package name, and also a bundle ID to set up the app with other Apple services. You'll also need to provide a bundle ID for the app's provisioning profile. You'll also need to provide a bundle ID for the app's provisioning profile. You'll also need to provide a bundle ID for the app's provisioning profile.

Requirements

1. You'll need to provide a bundle ID for your app (e.g., "com.example.app").
2. You'll need to provide a bundle ID for your app's provisioning profile.
3. You'll need to provide a bundle ID for your app's provisioning profile. You'll also need to provide a bundle ID for your app's provisioning profile. You'll also need to provide a bundle ID for your app's provisioning profile.

4. You'll need to provide a bundle ID for your app (e.g., "com.example.app").

