

As you approach your 65th birthday, you have some important decisions to make regarding health insurance coverage, most likely to include Medicare. There are many Medicare plans to choose from and many “brokers” who can help you choose the right plan for you. In case it helps, we would offer a recommendation.

Kevin Watkins is a trusted Medicare specialist, who will help you navigate those decisions as you enroll in the health plan that best meets your needs. He is familiar with the insurance plans that our office accepts, and is very educated on which companies not only have good benefits, but are a good partner in your care.

Many companies fighting for your business have similar benefits and co-pay amounts. However, customer service, claims processing, and other factors are what set these plans apart.

Kevin will meet with you over the phone or thru a WebEx teleconference. You do not need to expose yourself to any in-person meetings at this time. You can work with Kevin remotely from the safety of your home.

Thank you for trusting us with your health! If not with Kevin, may you find all the help you need in making this transition into Medicare.
